Some things last
forever;
They never fade
with time . . .

Like the way a favorite autumn

Is gentle on your mind . . .

Or moods that took your heart

And put it into the clouds . . .

Friendships that started way back then;

Friendships that you knew would last through all the years ahead.

The scattered photographs
That found their way into your favorite album . . .

The way you felt about people . . .

The way you felt
about life.

Memories of what you were . . .

Hope for what you will become . . .

Some things last
forever . . .

OUR 200TH ANNIVERSARY AS A FREE NATION A TIME OF REFLECTION . . . A TIME OF SEEKING NEW HORIZONS . . .

The 1975-76 school year will be remembered by all of us as the year of projects - projects designed to help us take a deep and thoughtful look at our 200-year heritage. Our observance of the Bicentennial accented the history of America through student presentations of the morning "Bicentennial Minute" and through a featured "Two Hundred Years Later" column in the Gold 'n Black. Choir and band concerts presented stirring music with an emphasis on patriotism, and bulletin board displays provided a history lesson in red, white, and blue. SHS Thespians even added a touch of humor to our year-long 'birthday party' with their choice of a spring play, 'George Washington Slept Here.' A Bicentennial Ground Beautification Committee planted flowers and trees that flourished in the 13 colonies, and the 'Betsy Rosses' of the Home Economics Club made a Pennington '76 flag. As this book goes into print that flag still waves proudly in front of our building.

The deeper purpose of all of the work was, of course, an attempt to take the best of our past and weave it into guidelines for a better tomorrow.

The 1976 SHAWANO is proudly dedicated to the pride of our past and the hope of our future. It is dedicated, too, to Americans of years gone by and years yet to come whose courage once did and must always manifest itself in action, example, and ultimate accomplishment.

In short, this book is dedicated to the greatest democracy the world has ever known . . . America.

Timothy Juergens, school board president, accepts a gold key from Mr. Meier, architect; and Mr. Irvine gives introductory remarks concerning the background of guest speaker Charles Fox. Below is a Bicentennial showcase display featuring the Revolutionary War memorabilia owned by SHS science teacher Jay Eben.

New Additions to Building Dedicated in December

On December 7 a Dedication Ceremony and Open House introduced community residents to Shawnee's building additions of new library and classroom wing, new gymnasium and music wing, and expanded industrial arts and business wing. A Bicentennial theme provided the background for the impressive occasion, and guests witnessed a Revolutionary War soldier (Mr. Jay Eben) fire a musket in the new gym to initiate the program.

Following the Dedication Program, guided tours of the building allowed visitors not only to see the "new Shawnee" but also to hear explanations of the new curriculum of semester elective courses in English and Social Studies. Expanded course offerings in all departments are expected to be completed within the next two years.

Faculty Guides SHS Students Through Exciting School Year

The 1975-76 school year saw SHS faculty members moving into new classrooms, changing into semester-elective courses in both English and Social Studies, trying new and innovative ways to unite the student body in the celebration of our nation's 200th anniversary. In short, it was a year of 'firsts' whose only parallel might have been 1958-59 when Shawnee opened its doors for its initial year of operation. The dedication and hard work of the faculty helped make this year memorable and paved the way for an exciting future.

Anthropology Class Buries 'Mystery Civilization'

An exciting experiment of Mr. Raymond's Anthropology class involved the creation of a new civilization, with a language, religion, architecture, and culture all its own. Remnants of the society were buried on the school grounds, and next year's class will undertake the project of an archeological digging to unearth the 'mystery civilization' and reconstruct the society as nearly as possible to its origin. This project is a 'first' (at least to our knowledge) in high-school anthropology projects in U.S. schools. Participants in the project are: Barb Baldwin, Pam Dooley, Kay Trenner, Sandy Gibson, David Fox, Steve Weed, Brenda Perkins and Mr. Raymond.

We'll Miss You, Bud!

Bud Neff's memories of Shawnee go back to January, 1959, when he began his eighteen-year tenure of service the first year that our school was open. His decision to retire at the conclusion of this school year leaves us with a sense of irreplaceable loss, for Shawnee High School without Bud Neff is virtually impossible to imagine.

Ten years ago the yearbook staff dedicated their edition of the Shawano to Bud, and our feelings regarding this fine man cannot be reflected any more clearly or sincerely than through repeating the words of that 1966 dedication.

"We hold him, as a long-time friend, in high esteem for his unselfish devotion to Shawnee High and its students," they wrote. "Dances, pep rallies, assemblies, games - these are but a few of the activities that involve the services of this untiring and patient man who has put above all other things the school and the people within it."

Happy retirement, Bud.

We'll miss you.

Mr. Schmunk Named Superintendent Of Clark County Schools

"My association with Springfield Local Schools during the past 12 years has been extremely satisfying. Any accomplishments that have occurred there have been as a result of the outstanding cooperation from the students, parents, educators, and board members." These were the words of Springfield Local Superintendent Roy Schmunk when he learned on March 18 that he had been named the new superintendent of Clark County Schools, replacing R. Henry Campbell, who is retiring. Mr. Schmunk is pictured left at the dedication ceremony of Shawnee's new building additions last December 7. He is pictured below accepting a "farewell" gift of a watch from the Board of Education. Board President U. Timothy Juergens makes the presentation as board members Charles McWilliams, Jack Kame, Dorothy Slagle and William Winkler look on.

Shawnee High School faculty members and students join together to express appreciation for the hard work and dedication that have marked the twelve years of Mr. Schmunk's leadership in Springfield Local Schools; and to extend best wishes to him in his new position.

Shawnee Gridders Continue Winning Tradition

The fighting Braves completed a successful season to continue the gridder winning tradition. The season started with a spirited win of 14-7 over Springfield Catholic Central. One of the most exciting wins of the season was the stormy game against Urbana. This 14-3 win was a game few football Braves will forget, and few spectators will remember because of dampened interest due to the forceful weather. The Braves gained a second place position in the CBC with a winning season of 6-3.

(Season Record on page 58.)

'Saturday in the Park' Is Theme of Homecoming Dance

Homecoming 1975 will long be remembered as a perfect weekend. The festivities started Thursday night with the traditional bonfire pep rally and ended with a memorable dance Saturday night. The Braves' smashing victory over Northeastern Jets, 20-6, made the weekend complete.

From Daydreams to Reality!

Every girl dreams of becoming a queen, but for senior Karen Osment that dream became a reality . . . and what a beautiful "queen" she was as she received her crown and roses during halftime festivities of the 1975 Homecoming game. Her court, one of the loveliest Shawnee has seen, helped Karen reign over the second half of the Braves' victorious Fall Classic, as well as the dance the following night. Homecoming '75? Fantastic!

Naomi Reed Stars in 'The Diary of Anne Frank'

January 31st brought the tense drama, 'The Diary of Anne Frank,' to Shawnee's stage with Thespian Society President Naomi Reed portraying Anne. The 'attic Annex' and the Jews (including the Frank family) who hid there for three years during World War II to escape the terror of the Gestapo were realistically brought to life in this production. The story told in the drama is especially poignant, for it is true, and Anne's diary was actually found by her father who survived the horrors of a Nazi concentration camp.

This play, which marked the directing debut at Shawnee for Mr. Dave Railsback, proved an exciting and memorable evening for the capacity crowd in attendance.

Mr. Dave Railsback, Director

The holidays started with a swing, with Dale Grim supplying the music for the annual Christmas dance. The Christmas dance, sponsored by the senior class, was a sparkling success, with Santa Claus being the honored guest. The holidays ended with yearbook staffers and FCA members involved in a 24-hour rocking chair marathon to raise money for both organizations. As a whole, it was an active way to end the old year and bring in the new!

L. # Kim Burns, Rick Heck Get Top Billing in 'George Washington Slept Here'

The April 9th production of 'George Washington Slept Here' brought a rollicking comedy to Shawnee's stage, with Kim Burns and Rick Heck (pictured at right) giving the audience full measure of laughter as they portrayed the city-bred Fullers - bent on restoring an old house. The story opens with Newton Fuller showing his family the quaint old house that he just bought. As it turns out, the old house is not Buckingham Palace. However, the house is restored and the Fullers just begin to enjoy it when a banker who wants the mortgage payment arrives. To add to the hilarious plot, daughter Madge falls in love with a local actor and nephew Raymond intimidates the Fullers' maid.

Directing the fun-filled performance was Mrs. Beth Hearlihy, assisted by Student Director Cyndy Baker.

The Places We Saw, the People We Met

For a first in Shawnee's history, the old members of the National Honor Society embarked on a Domestic Exchange Student Program with students from Sandwich, Massachusetts. The students from Sandwich visited Shawnee in April, and in May Shawnee students traveled to Sandwich for a week-long return visit. The week was highlighted by side trips to Boston, Plymouth, Provincetown, and the Cape Cod Sand Dunes.

The club conducted a United Nations Day with food, costumes and music from other countries. As a conclusion to their year's activities, the club held a picnic in May.

The Math Club had a featured speaker, Mr. Eben, lecture on the principles of flight and then followed up their studies with a field trip to the Neil Armstrong Air and Space Museum in Wapakoneta, Ohio. As a club they learned arithmetricks (math games) and lessons on the slide rule. A Bicentennial showcase with maps and biographies on George Rogers Clark and Simon Kenton was presented by the club.

G.A.A and Varsity "S"

The Girls' Athletic Association this year sponsored five interscholastic sports plus a co-ed bowling league at Victory Lanes. As fund raising projects the club members cleaned the gym after home basketball games, worked a coat check, and held a "Beautiful Legs Contest." New members were inducted in a spring ceremony at Cliff Park.

This year's Varsity "S" held several activities and money making projects. The club held its annual breakfast at Perkin's and in May attended a Reds' baseball game. As fund raising projects, the club held a free throw contest and ran a refreshment stand at home basketball games. With the money they earned and previous funds, a pitching machine was purchased and donated to the Athletic Department.

The International Thespian Society presented 'The Diary of Anne Franke' as their winter production and 'George Washington Slept Here' as their spring production. Sixteen members of the Dramatics Club were initiated into the International Thespian Society in May. The freshman award went to Larry Southward, the sophomore award to Ralph Ewing and the junior award to Kim Burns. # Home Economics Club and Secretaries Clubs

A major project of the Home Economics Club was the construction and presentation to the school of a Bennington 1776 flag, to be flown on the school flagpole during 1976 in honor of the Bicentennial. Other activities of the club included a stationery and note card sale and a 'Pizza Parlor' at the Pow Wow.

The Secretaries Club kept busy throughout the year with such activities as field trips, guest speakers, and making Holiday gifts for the Shawnee faculty. They gave candy-filled stockings at Christmas and live plants for Easter.

Fellowship Of Christian Athletes And Forensic Club

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes once again co-sponsored a successful Rockathon with the Publications Department as a fund-raising project. Money earned was used to send members to summer FCA conferences. The club attended monthly church services, and in the spring held father-son activities such as swimming and handball at Urbana College.

The Forensic Club, a newly formed organization to promote interscholastic speaking, was immensely successful in its first year at Shawnee. Under the direction of Mr. Don Kelly, the club participated in various area speaking contests where they won many ribbons and trophies and placed second in the Bicentennial Youth Debate held at South. The club also had two members, Jodee Peters and Joe Porfidio, who qualified for state finals held at Cincinnati Princeton.

Language Club And Office Aides

The office aides have many tasks that they must perform during the day. They do such jobs as answer the phone, file records, sort and carry mail and run errands. This group gains the experience of working in an office and learns many useful skills.

This year the Language Club kept very active. To help raise money, the club sold candy bars and co-sponsored the February 50's Dance with the Medical Careers Club. A Japanese exchange student from Wittenberg and Katrin Arendt, an exchange student from Germany, were featured speakers during a club meeting. To bring a close to their activities, a spring banquet was held where they enjoyed a catered Italian dinner and announced the officers for next year's club.

30 New Members Inducted in Spring Ceremonies

This year's National Honor Society has been involved in many activities under the leadership of Mrs. Mowery, the new advisor. One week, students from Sandwich, Massachusetts, stayed with the members and visited the school and other surrounding sites. Another week, our members visited Massachusetts. Among the 30 new members inducted this year, Mr. Schmunk and Mr. Irvine were named honorary members. Serving as officers of this group are: Cheryl Leibfritz, president; Ron Wainz, vice-president; and Cathy Cultice, secretary-treasurer.

Science Seminar

The Science Seminar is a group of students who are strongly interested and majoring in sciences. Each member of the club is expected to contribute to the club in some way; this can come from such things as demonstrations, projects or speeches. The club started work on a nature lab and listened to a speaker from the County Extension office concerning conservation.

Counselor Aides

As guidance counselors moved into their new offices this past year, a new group of student office help was formed, the counselor aides. These helpers are assigned specifically to the three guidance counselors. Their jobs as receptionists include such tasks as answering the phone and setting up appointments for students to see the counselors.

The Publications Department underwent a major "facelifting" in 1975-76, as more space and new equipment were provided through Shawnee's new building additions. Both the newspaper and yearbook staffs moved into the conference room in the new East Wing, and student photography was done in the new dark-room just across the hall. The final edition of the newspaper was done, in part, by the Graphic Arts class on the new offset press, and future plans include changing entirely to offset printing. Indicative of the success of publications this year is the fact that sales zoomed to an all-time high in all three publications - yearbook, newspaper and literary magazine.

Seniors

Greg Clements, the George Washington of the senior class, has been one of the most active students at Shawnee. He has been a member of the varsity tennis team for four years, has participated in band, orchestra, and choir, and has earned much acclaim in leading roles of several Thespian productions.

Kee Kell, who served as Vice-President of the class of '76, has been quite active in Shawnee organizations. She has been a participant in Block "S", JCOWA, Language Club, and the National Honor Society. Kee also was a wrestling cheerleader and member of the Prom Court.

Celebrated Seniors 76

Candy Potts, secretary of the senior class, has excelled in many areas at Shawnee. She has contributed to the marching band, symphonic band, pep band, and orchestra, and all three of the major Shawnee publications. She was also honored as one of the Top Ten honor graduates.

Julie Huff, who served as senior class treasurer, has also been very active in many athletic organizations. She has been a member of GAA and served as vice-president her senior year. She has participated in bowling, volleyball, softball and tennis. She was also a member of National Honor Society and graduated in the Top Ten.

P. 208 - L. to R.: Fábio Almeida and Katrin Arendt - Shawnee's spicy taste of Brazil and Germany; Marching Braves move off to another half-time show; "No, no, no! Clarinets, you're too loud."

P. 209 - L. to R.: "And that's the way it was July 4, 1776;" What super-human force can be lurking in this hall of knowledge?

Autumn brought beginnings

A time to grow joyous in spirit . . .

P. 210 - TOP: "A touchdown will do this to me every time;" Kent Powers and Kenny Hoecker before the Northeastern game.

P. 211 - L. to R.: Kim Kohl and Dave Marshall take their turn down the slide; some seniors planning their next move; Bud receiving some moral support from Terry Malina and Jenny Roberts: "Look ma, no hands."

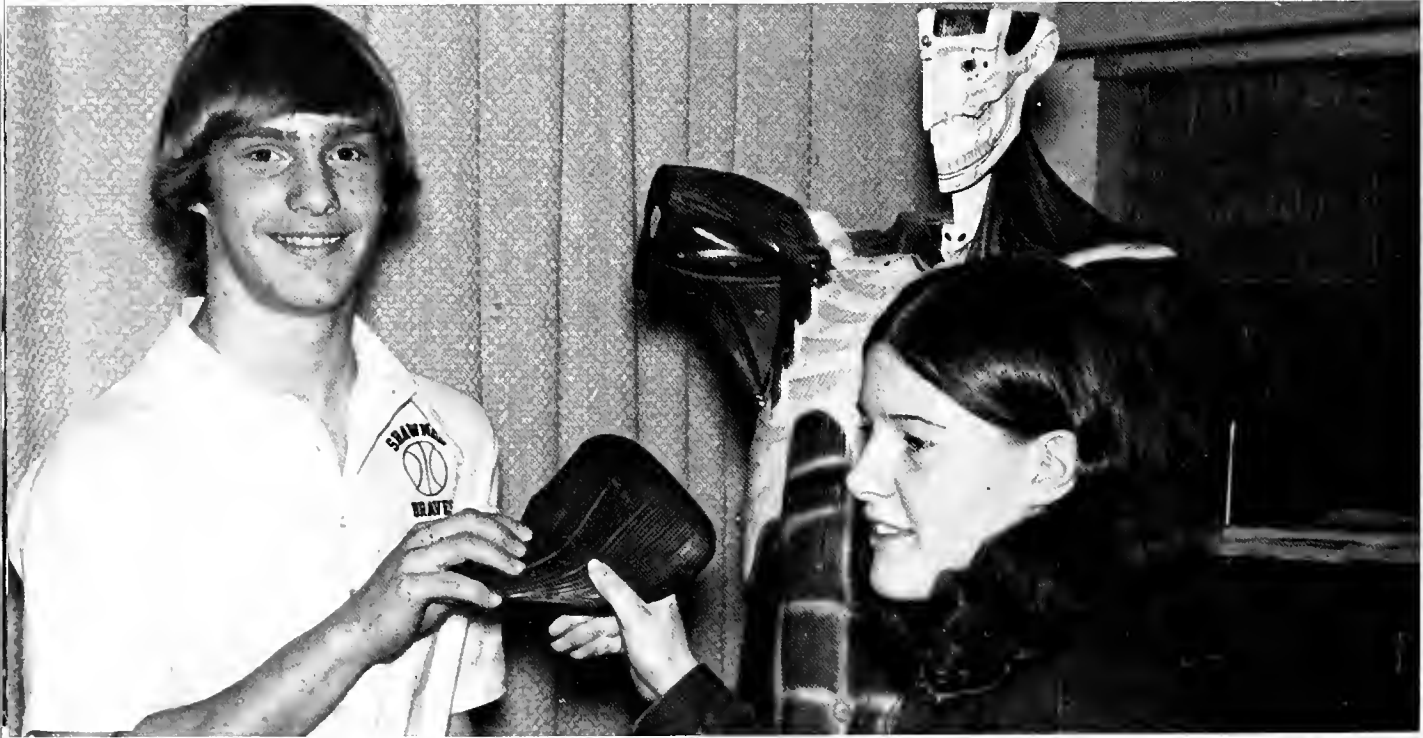

P. 212 - L. to R.: "There goes my average;" a moment of honor for Sharon Vasileff; "Get ready to turn the page for me, Carol!"
P. 213 - L. to R.: Disappointment; discouragement; defeat; demerits?

Wiser in knowledge,
Humble in defeat

In the dreariness
of Old Man Winter
we seemed to travel
in a world of understanding
. . . full of smiles, hopes and anticipation

P. 214 - TOP: How much is that doggie in the window? . . .: "Now where does this piece go?"

P. 215 - L. to R.: Mr. Moore has an uplifting experience while talking to Mr. Bedingfield and Mr. Eben; Gale Speckman planning her weekend in the middle of class; Jim Neer testing out the raffle prize in the hallway; "Pam, what can Santa bring you for Christmas?"

P. 216 - L. to R.: "All right, Eric, your money or your life;" Mary Cripe and Katrin Arendt cool themselves after walking through Cedar Bog; Kent Powers on his way to another take-off!

P. 217 - L. to R.: A distinguished Mr. Gustafson prepares to give awards at Honor Assembly; Mrs. Harvey taking care of another small ailment.

Overcome by the innocence of spring, when it is difficult not to remember those good times

The loves and the hates
 , . . and, most of all,
 our friends.

P. 218 - L. to R.: Pin-ball Wizzard ringing up another shot; some brave parents under cover during the Parents' Night football game.

P. 219 - L. to R.: Mrs. Hibbett summing up the ideas of a lot of juniors; stage band members loosening up before a show; David Gross and Linda Baggett congratulate each other on a job well done; Graduates outside the gym after commencement; Mrs. Mowery experiencing the thrill of a surprise.

And grasp the magic from the haze
Of life, its rhythms and its rhymes,
And realize "These are the days."
